

Output grew in every region last year while prices eased, as the two panels below show for four economies, with the bars giving the level and the lines the change over the year.

Output grew in every region last year while prices eased, as the two panels below show for four economies, with the bars giving the level and the lines the change over the year.