

Green Space and Summer Heat

1. Introduction

Green space in a city is known to lower the air temperature on a summer afternoon, but how much it lowers it varies with the size of the park around it.

2. Measurement

The readings were taken last summer in twelve city parks, twice a day, with the same calibrated thermometer at every